What is the daycare environment like?

Daycare is a play group for dogs, which is supervised by professional dog counselors, providing a safe and stimulating environment for your pet. Your dog can work out on play equipment, request intermittent walks, get a massage, swim in our various pools, play with their favorite friends, and brush up on obedience commands. We have an outdoor fenced-in play yard in which the dogs can romp with their friends, plus an indoor facility for continued playtime in poor weather.

Your dog will experience many happy hours socializing and playing with other dogs. You reap the benefits of coming home to a dog that will have a similar energy level to you after a long day of work.

Is daycare the answer for my dog?

Our customers choose daycare for many different reasons. Some drop their dogs off just to let them have fun and play with other dogs. Other owners work all day, with their pet spending the day alone, either in the house or backyard. This often results in destructive behavior caused by boredom or separation anxiety. A couple days a week in daycare can help alleviate these and other costly behavioral problems.

Many dogs benefit from daycare. Studies have shown that shy dogs and puppies benefit tremendously from this type of program by learning very important socialization skills. Overweight and out-of-shape dogs improve muscle tone and even lose weight.

What criteria must my dog meet to come to daycare?

They must be dog and people friendly.
Be spayed or neutered if older than 6 months.
Have proof of all vaccinations (Distemper, Rabies and Bordatella) that are up to date.
Be on a flea control program.
